Vehr Communications joins IPREX partnership

Business Courier of Cincinnati

Cincinnati public relations firm Vehr Communications said it has joined IPREX as the local partner for the global public relations network.

IPREX, founded in 1983, has 60 partner PR firms worldwide. The organization allows firms to offer services, through partner companies, in areas outside its footprint.

“Through this exclusive partnership we have access to proven, on-the-ground expertise in nearly every city in North America, Europe, the Middle East and Asia Pacific,” said Nick Vehr, president of Vehr Communications, in a news release.

Vehr Communications, based downtown, offers corporate, crisis and online communications; public affairs; media relations; and investor relations, among other services.
